The Flying Car

A Short Story for Advanced Readers
(Primary School Level)

One day, there was a car with no wheels.

The car felt sad because it could not go anywhere like the other cars.

Then, on a day that was windier than usual, the car began to move.

The car didn't know what to do. The wind blew its doors open!

And then...

The car lifted off the ground.

The car felt scared, but the wind lifted it higher and higher!

Soon, it was floating above the trees. It had never been so high up before. The car felt nervous and closed its doors! And then...

It began to fall! What should it do?

The car opened its doors just in time and was lifted up again.

Soon, it began moving forward and now the car with no wheels was flying over the trees.

After flying over the trees, the car flew over houses.
The view was amazing.

After flying over the houses, the car flew over a bridge.
The view was beautiful.

After flying over the bridge, the car flew over the other cars. It was going faster than them. The car felt very happy!

By the end of the day, the car was returned to where it rested before. Now, whenever there was a very windy day, the car with no wheels could go anywhere.

The end
